Guidelines for Using Material from Active Learning Space

We are glad that you find our material useful and we hope that you will share it with others. Our goal is to support teachers, families, and others who are working to promote an Active Learning approach among children who are blind or visually impaired, including those who have additional disabilities or who are deafblind. We respectfully ask that you follow some basic guidelines. Please note that we do NOT grant permission to use anything on this site for profit-making purposes.

Printing, Emailing, and Sharing Materials on Social Media

Please do feel free print and share activities, resources, and other items that you find useful! There are icons on many pages that it make it easy for you to do this:

We just ask that it be clearly marked where the material comes from and if appropriate, who the author is. If the author is not specified, then please credit Active Learning Space.

Posting on the Web

1. Please request permission first.
2. Please clearly credit the author if listed and the website (Active Learning space) as well as the URL.
3. Please summarize the article in your own words and add a link to the original article, rather than copying and pasting the original article in its entirety.
4. If you are interested in posting a full article, please contact us to discuss the options. We love to be invited to write guest posts on other websites or blogs!

Reprinting in Newsletters or Other Publications

1. Please request permission by emailing Kate Borg, TSBVI Outreach Director at borgk@tsbvi.edu.
2. Please clearly credit the website (Active Learning Space) as well as the URL.

3. If your publication appears online, including in .pdf format, please follow the guidelines above for posting on the web.

Photographs

1. Photographs used on this site may not be copied or shared if they contain images of children or adults unless they appear in a downloadable document. Then only limited copies may be printed for educational purposes.
2. Photographs of equipment and materials may not be copied and shared, unless they appear as part of a downloadable document, and then they should only be used for educational purposes and limit copies.

Thank you for following these guidelines! Let us know if you have questions.
